It’s been another very busy week at our school.

Beautification of the school grounds continues, with our Year 10 Ag class working hard in the quadrangle. The students have redesigned the layout and are presently preparing it for a new and improved look. The Year 7/8 students not attending camp had a working bee yesterday, enthusiastically clearing out rubbish and dead plants.

Our Year 7/8 students attending Cape Bridgewater camp are reportedly having a brilliant time. They’ve participated in such activities as snowboarding, snorkelling, canoeing and archery.

The staff tennis championships continue with strong contenders in the mix. Finals will be played on the school tennis courts on Friday evening. Good luck to all those who are taking part.

We wish all our primary and secondary swimmers going to Swan Hill next Wednesday a successful day.

The Haunted House

One summer holiday two children named Gemma & Harry went to their uncle’s house. They weren’t very happy because their uncle’s house was a haunted house. Ahhh! Also, their uncle was a mad scientist, not very good. When Harry packed he made sure he had two torches, two walkie talkies and his spy gear. Gemma made sure she had her hair brush, her mirror, lip gloss and her Gameboy advance.

When they got to his house in England, it was all dark and mysterious but when their uncle opened the door he had a pleasant smile on his face and weird goggles on his head. The second they walked in the house they heard a noise. Ohhhhh! The kids were already scared. That night the children couldn’t find their uncle and Harry said “I knew this was going to happen, lucky I brought my spy gear”. “And lucky I brought my lip gloss,” Gemma said happily. “What does that have to do with anything?” asked Harry angrily.

Year 5 & 6 student were given the start to an essay entitled The Haunted House and had to write an appropriate ending.

Elena Huggins -

Too quiet. He was nowhere to be seen. Harry and Gemma checked everywhere but there was still no sign of him! Suddenly BANG, BOOM, SCREAM! “Where is that coming from?” yelled Harry over the horrendous noise of laughing and screaming. It sounded like a fair. It was coming from the corner of the room, but HOW?

“What is that awful noise?” shrieked Gemma. “Let’s go check it out, shall we?” said Harry, blocking his ears. “Quick!” he said, tugging her over towards the far left corner of the room.

Suddenly a door was in sight. It was no ordinary door, it was a small door covered with spider webs and antique wood carvings. Gemma shivered, Harry shivered.

There was no time to lose. They had to find their uncle. Harry gently pushed open the door slightly and slowly peeked through and smiled. “It’s Uncle Albert,” Harry Whispered as quiet as a mouse. He did not want to disturb his uncle, especially when he was working.

“Come in, children,” he said gently keeping his eyes on his desk. “Want to meet my new invention? Einstein.” he said, eyes still focused on his desk.

“He is a robotic person who can create noises for puppet shows. My latest sound is an alien attack at a carnival.” the professor finally faced them.

“But I heard laughing,” Gemma said.

“Oh, these are good aliens, they tickle you,” he said.

The two of them sighed with relief.

Brock Bracken -

They go in the science lab. Harry and Gemma disappeared. They landed in a magic land. They thought magic land was cool because everyone was a clown. Harry and Gemma wanted to be clowns. King Clown said, “you and your friend have to do a mission for me.” Harry and Gemma said, “Why?” The king said that is what they had to do if they wanted to be a clown. They asked what the mission was. The king said the mission was for them to steal 5000 lollipops for him to eat.

Lilly Cattanach -

Harry and Gemma walked into the lab. They wandered around. Whilst they were walking they heard a big BOOM! They both jumped. All of a sudden out popped 6 hungry zombies. The zombies came after them. They both ran to the door. Harry tried to open it but it wouldn’t budge. Gemma got out her lipstick and sprayed the door with it. It still wouldn’t budge.

The zombies were closer to them. Harry had a great idea. He told Gemma to give him her mirror. Harry got his torch out and grabbed the mirror. He shone the torch into the mirror. The bright light shone onto the zombies. The zombies started to die. It was a huge relief to Harry and Gemma. They decided to shine the light on the door handle. The handle burnt off and they were set free. On their way out they bumped into their uncle. “Where have you been?” their uncle asked. The children didn’t say a thing. “It’s bedtime!” The children went back to bed. They felt safe - for now!!! Whha, whha.

CHANCES FOR CHILDREN FUNDING ROUND IS NOW OPEN – CLOSING APRIL 24TH 2015. Chances for Children, commonly known as Chances, was established in 2000 in partnership with Mal-lee Family Care and the then three water authorities, with the under-standing that our community needs to protect its two most important assets – water and young people. TRIAL CONTINUES:
If you haven’t already done so we would love you to take part in our Tiqbiz trial. Details on how to download the app onto your smartphone were on the newsletter a few weeks ago. We have had a number of parents using the app in the last couple of weeks. Parents have been notifying us of their child’s absence, whether their child/ren are on the bus and any small comments or messages to pass on to teachers/staff. If you would like to be able to do this please download the app now. Our trial finishes at the end of the term and it will be then we make a decision as to whether to continue with the program. We do need everyone to use it to make it worthwhile. At the moment a very small group of parents are using it.

CAPE BRIDGEWATER
Our Year 7 & 8 students have been enjoying their camp at Cape Bridgewater this week. Students have been participating in a range of activities including snowboarding, archery and snorkelling. Apparently the weather had been fantastic up until Thursday when there was some rain at the start of the day. The first canoers would have needed to be rugged up.
